THE OCTOBER ELECTIONS.

The returns from Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana continue to improve. Every suc- tertained by the people of Brookfield-tables cessive report swells the Republican majorities. By the last accounts they stand thus: Pennsylvania, . . 30,000 majority.

Indiana, 15,000 " That will do for October. In November the Republicans will improve upon these figures. The Legislatures, both in Pennsylvania and Ohio, are largely Republican; securing two Republican U.S. Senators in place of two doughface Democrats.

As to Congressmen, the official counts give us more than we at first claimed. Thus Judge Butter [Rap.] beats Lehman [Douglas] in the First District of Philadelphia, [FLORENCE's,] by 185 majority. This is a great triumph.

OUR COUNTY TICKET.

The Republicans of Milwaukee County have presented an excellent ticket for the auffrages of the electors. Mr. PHELPS, our candidate for Sheriff, is an old and well known citizen, and has already filled various public trusts to the satisfaction of his con- lachrymose; the Know-Nothings being "left stituents, and the advantage of the city .-HALBERT E. PAINE, the nomines for Clerk of the Court, is a young lawyer of great promise and unblemished character. No man questions his fitness for the post. Our candidate for County Treasurer, DANIEL SCHULTZ, is one of the oldest members of our Milwankes Fire Department; for many years the active and energatic Foreman of Neptune Engine Company, No. 2; afterwards, for several terms, our efficient Chief Engineer; always faithful and untiring in the discharge of his duty; and, withal, an HONEST MAN, Mr. PIETSOH, who is runming for Register of Deeds, is probably as well quallified for the office as any man in Milwaukee. He is accurate, methodical, industrious, trustworthy; and, if elected, will discharge in person, not by deputy, the re sponsible duties of Rigister. Mr. J B. D COOSWELL, the candidate for District Attorney, enjoys a high reputation at our Milwankee Bar, and is a decided favorite with all who know him. He will make an excellent officer.

WILLIAM MELMS, candidate for Clerk of the Board of Supervisors, is one of the most estimable of our German fellow-citizens. He is a staunch Republican and good citizen; and Demograts fused, and polled 3.766 town on Monday evening, to attend the jority of all the votes, was declared to be where it can be purchased. Besten Eng. has hosts of friends, who give him their votes next mouth. JOHN C. CROUNSE, for Surveyor, is another necessary qualification for the post. JOHN FRENCH, our candidate for Coroner, ranks as A No. 1, in the Fire Department, for long and faithful service; and will be warmly supported by his comrades and all true Republicans. Such is our Republican county ticket. It

It needs but two or three additional votes to give us the control of the Senate, and these we shall secure before the second year of Mr. LINCOLN'S administration. When the fact is borne in mind that scarce six years ago, WILLIAM H. SEWARD, almost alone and the Republican cause in the V. S. Senate, it leady and irresistible, as with the masses of lican victories in Pennsylvania, Ohio, and Indiana, "a great trlumph over SEWARD." This is the sole consolation which it can derive from these unlooked-for and unwelcomed results. Far be it from us to deprive it of these "orembs of comfort." On the contrary, we hope the News will make he most of them. We cannot say as much, however, for a delasion in which the News indulges as to New York. It tells ws:

Hot it is not too kets yet for New York to faill the gledge made by the friends of Seward, when Lacoin was nominated. They prefitted that New York would not sanction, in November, the clengther of her favorite son on such filmsy pretexts as were assigned for what taking out by the Pennamites and Rossiers.

So much for Republican management ! Our readers cannot have forgotten how persistently the Democratic organs, orators, which indifference to so pregnant an issue, and candidates, throughout the canvass last on his part, the people, who do care, are fall, charged that there would be a heavy deficit this year, and that the light tax imposed by the Republican legislature, would not suffice to meet the current expenses, and was only intended to blind the people. Gov. RANDALL, on the other hand, and the other Republican candidates, maintained that the tax was simple, and that with honest [and prudent management, there would be a to elect them. handsome surplus in the Treasury at the end of the fiscal year. That time has come,

The Pennsylvania and Indiana Elections.

We have no reason to doubt that both Pennsylvania and Indiana have gone, by comparatively large majorities, for the Republican ticket. Nor do see see any reason to deput that the result indicates, with the certainty that has, during the leat twenty years, attaphed to similar indication—the issue as the Presidential election. We do not task in the result of next mouth's election decided—but if does look to us to near like it that there is in ones quarreing shout terms. We do not see that "Old Abe" has got much to do, if these returns are true—but to pack up his "duds," close his law tuniness, sell his house and jot and furniture, and move from Springfield, Illinois, to Washington. jus & Democrat.

The Argue & Democrat very frankly seknowledges the certainty of the Republican triumph next month. It does not attempt, like some lesser lights in the Democratic party, to deceive its readers as to the results of the Ohio, Pennsylvania and Indiana elections, or their declaive influence upon the Presidential contest next month. As to its anticipations for the future, we entertain no doubt that a few months will satisfy our Madison cotemporary, as well as the people at large, that the administration of Mr. Lin-coln will be "a patriotic and constitutional one," and, as such, will be cheerfully "acquiesed in." by all parties and all sec-tions of the Republic.

DISTRESSING CASUALTY.—On the after-noon of Wednesday last, Thomas Phark, Jr., aged 23, of Heney Greek, Walworth County, white engaged in digging a well, was buried some twelve or fifteen feet deep, by the giving way of the curb. Every effort was made to resourchim, but up to Thursday morning early, his body had not been reached. The extentrophe excited despregret in Honey Creek.

Peripatetic Polities.

The charitable intendments of politics credit a certain degree of modesty to aspisants for public trust. In our country, candegenerates into a trade, and candidates for effice, like brazen courtezans, push themselves forward to solicit the support of the populace by the impudent blazonry of their own superficial pretensions. Even among semi-barbaric nations, and in know of a single act of mine, either as Atremote ages, we find notable instances of this | torney or Director, which in the least ausort of modesty, worthy of imitation at the thorizes the charge of wrong or injustice to present day. imperial CERAR thrice put by say of the farmers of this county, or citicountrymen-"every time gentler than the pany. other." But by a contrast, quite unfortunate (for CESAR, perhaps?), we shall have here to-day smong us, a man who has as often been endeavoring, if not actually to grasp the grown unoffered, to hang his hat upon the Presidential peg, at Washington; and who is still straining his stumpy little ag-

are up on his tip-toes to effect that object. The dignity of the exalted office of President of the United States—a station which has been truly declared to be the most honorable on earth, because it is beyond the accidents of birth, or the achievements of force-has bitherto preserved it from the ignominy or being traited through the mere dirt and filth of politics by atump candidates. As spectator and actor, we have witnessed the six preceding Presidential contests. Out of the dozen candidates who have been presented to the American people during twenty-four years, among whom may be supposed to be found the representatives of all the different phases of American polities, none has been so little wanting in respect for the dignity of the first crice in the gift of his country, as to degrade it by a peripatetic campaign, and to parade his person and pretensions, like the mountebank

It is true, General HARRISON, during the unparalleled excitement of the contest of much worse off I am pecuniarily than I 1840, did show himself on one or two occacess of our friends in carrying both branches sions of immense popular gatherings, in his ed with the unfortunate railroad enterprise of the Pennsylvania and Indiana Legisla- own State, where he attempted something referred to; yet, whether in the Legislature, tures. The Americans adjourned to a large hall in the upper story of the new school house, where they and those who agree with them in sentiment, going to do in this contest? Only one Douglas paper in the Third Congressional District has been frank and candid enough to publish the proceedings of the Fond du Lac Convention, which nominated Judge Larrabee for re-election. With the exception of the Chilton Tomes none of the Douglas papers have published the resulution offered by Mr. Elwell of Sheboygan. Show your hand. Do you approve of Mr. Lurrabee's views? If you do, "go in" for him. Mr. Elwell's resolution is as follows:

" Whereas, It is understood that the Hon-Charles H. Larrabes, Representative in Con-gress from this District, is a candidate for re-nomination before this Convention, and "Whereas, The said Charles H. Larrabes declared, published and circulated, in a ap-sech made by him in the House of R-presentatives, December 17, 1859, the following sentiments, to wit: In speaking of the present National Administration is said: "Sir, I have been astonished to hear gentlemen on this floor, who are Democrats and say they necessarily caused by laying a road across them, for low assessments of damages, when the damages were appraised throughout by disinterested persons, appointed by the County Court, and for other matters equally beyond my reach or control, is both absurd and disgraceful to him who makes it a vote of 35 to 22.

Mr. farrabee was nominated and the Convention passed the following resolution:

Resolved, That the course of Charles II. Larrabee, as the Congressional Representa-tive of this District, has been such as to en-title him to the confidence and support, not Douglas to initiate this discreditable practice, which we hope and believe will meet the largest freedom in dealing with the charteles, which we hope and believe will meet the largest freedom in dealing with the charteles, which we hope and believe will meet the largest freedom in dealing with the charteles, and we pledge him our continued activity and institute a

It does not appear by what vote this last resolution was adopted, but is fair to presume that it was adopted by the same vote that laid Mr. Elwell's on the table.

Now, how stands the issue? Mr. Larrabee 'to-day entertains the highest possible respect for the present occupant of the Executive chair.' Has he taken back that applicant? Not one word of it. This nouth. sentiment? Not one word of it. This ought to secure him the votes of the Breckinridge men, if it does not the votes of the Doughas men. It is very generally believed that Mc. Doughas and his supporters do not entertain the most profound respect, either for Mr. Buchanan, or his administration. True, the Markey was not organized when Judge Larres. A few other extracts from that same speech might have been pertinently put into the preamble of Mr. Elwell's resolution, such raths tollowing: as the following:

THE VOICELESS. BY OLIVER WENDELL HOLMES.

We count the broken igree that rest.
Where the sweet waldny singers slumber,
But o'er their silent sister's breast.
The wild flowers sho will stoy to number?
A few can touch the magic string.
And noisy Fam: is proud to win them;
Atas! for those that never slug.
But die with all their music in them.

Nay, grieve not for the dead alone. Whose stang has told their heart's and starg—Weep for the voiceles, who have known. The cross without the crown of glory!
Not where beneatish brackes sweep. O'er Sappho's menory-haunted pinow, But where the glistenins night-down weep. O'er nameless sorrow's church yard pinow.

O, hearts that break and give too sign Saye whitening lips and fading treases.
The Death pours on this cerdial wine,
Slow-dropped from Miscry's crushing presses—
If singing breath or echoing chord
To every hidden pung were given,
What endless methodies were peured,
As ead as earth, 84 sweet as heaven!

Berger at Billiard,.

From the N. Y. Tribuns, Oct. 1.
The two schools of billiards—the scientific

The two schools of billards—the scientific and the romantic—were brought into contrast on Saturday evening in Mr. Puelan's private room, in his great temple of billiards at the sorner of Broadway and Tenth street. The French champion was introduced to the repesentatives of the American public, and exhibited his amazing skill upon his own table, which has been set up side by side with one of Puelan's best.

After a brief address by M. Berger, a series of shots in the romantic school were made. They were explained in a familiar commentary, and the most brilliant of them elicited rounds of applause. Without a diagram of the table, we cannot hope to convey the fancies that were wrought by the magic one. The balls seemed to be literally under the player's inspiration. Played out from a semicircle described in chalk at either corner of the bed, they cams together again tike a fisck of sheep after fulfilling their seperate rounds, and in a close group awaited their next summons. These shots proved that, with all his imagination, Berger is a great mathematician, and knows ger is a great mathematician, and knows well every angle of his table. And it was observed that, in these and kindred shots of observed that, in these and kindred shots of a most practical sert, he was in all cases most successful. In "twisting" his ball he displayed such bold skill as has never been seen in this country. His cue is always been seen in this country. His cue is always been seen in this country. His cue is always been seen in this country. His cue is always practice, as well as the most ungraceful, and is only possible to a master of the instrument. The amateur not only imperits the cloth and the leather of the case, but also, in nine cares out of ten, entirely falls to give the ivory the desired impulse.

The "forcing" shots were equally wonderful. Berger drew his ball back to a count from another ball placed midway of the table and sent it curving and curvetting from cushion to cushion, with an accuracy of result that was as unexpected as it was beautiful. His romance reached its climax in a SPALDING'S PREPARED GLUE, for His romance reached its climax in a spalling's PREPARED GLUE, tour de force, that electrified the audience, prepared for almost any freak of his iminagination. Placing two balls at one end of the table, and another at the other end, he pro-pelled his own ball from the two fair upon tions, fatigue, pain in the back and limbs, &c., dis. gentleman's hat, as if the end of the cue were a forceps.

The exhibition was astonishing, but, since The exhibition was astonishing, but, since an of these shots were ex-ecuted after from the stage of the aposte himself is never absoluted the transfer of the immense advantage of the romantic school. If the aposte himself is never absolutely design all that they represent to do.

OCR UNFINISHED RAH, ROADS. Mr. Ediron:--In your two last issues I notice you make mention of two railtoads leading out of this city that should be immediately finished to their destinations, namely: the Fox River Valley Rallroad, and the Milwaukes, Watertown and Barahoo Valley Railroad, the former to Richmond, Ill., and the latter from Madinon, Wis., its present terminue, to Dubuque, Iowa. I cannot have my attention directed to these two great enterprises without feeling provoked at the thought o now much Milwaukee is daily losing for want of the muletion of these two roads.

[will assure that If the Fox River Valley Railroad now called the Milwaukee and Northern Illinois Rail road) was completed to Richmond, Illinois, where it would connect with the Fex River Valley Railroad of Himois, it would bring more business to our city than any other railroad coming into Milwaukee,

I orge as a reason, the whole trade of the Racine Mississippi Railroad would be diverted to Milwankee and when that is done, I arge that the amount of bu siness on the Racine and Mississippi Railroad would ure than double, had it a direct communication and shortened route to Milwaukee, with a still greater increase when completed to Savana, or Folton, both of which points are nearer to Milwaukee, than to Claieago, by the line of the Fox River Valley Railroad. No person acquainted with the humanse resources of the country tapped by the Fox River Valley Railroad, and knowing the advantageous position of Milwhukee as a shipping point, can for a moment doubt that when completed to Milwzukee, it would cars larger amount of freight to and from Milwauker ian any other road centering here. No railroad run ning out of Milwankee traverses so fine a country the Racine and Mississippi Railroad, almost every oot along that road being under a high state of culivation, and by that road, in connection with the Fox nection with the Mississippi River from ulty infles south of Dubuque, draining the very heart of lowe. By completing the Fox River Valley Railroad, Milwaukee can also command all the trade of the northern tier of countles in Illinois, the very garden, and best wheat producing portion of that State, almost every acre of which is under cultivation. The WE OWN THE EXCLUSIVE RIGHT people of Northern Ellinois appreciate the advantages which they as well as we would reap from a railroad communication with Milwaukee, and are ready to do their part towards carrying out the enterprise, Another important consideration is that the connection of the Fox River Valley Railroad with the Rock Island Railron's would form a direct line of railroad between Milwaukee and St. Louis, by which freight could be carried from either city to the other without trans shipment, or going through Chicago. Taking all these Southwest by the present circultons routes, with a heavy discrimination in freights against us as compar ed with the rates from the same section to Chicago, I eint.

Merchants and dealers in Baota and Shoa* within the shore States, an also find these Medalic Tipped by Boots and Bloos, uspried and proporty startured by Wadsworth & Weils, for safe by ATKLIS, SYZHE & WHITE, and BRADLEY & STATES, MICHAELS, STATES and STATES into Northern Illinois, She once had that trade when it was done by learns but new Chicago has in under her control by her Rail Road connections. This trade belongs to Milwaukee, it is her dus, and can be resisted by a very little ef-Lard Oil and Stearine Candles, fort on the part of this city. Shall that effort be made? The next, if not of equal importance to Milirst door north of lotting a Blood, where the bust, sand manufacturing doublements like Boots and Valley Saliroad, new almost completed to Madison, those will be could bust by their, it locing their in estion to nondine their outsides a non-the same estion to nondine their outsides a non-the past this principles as they have done for the past this. wanter, is a branch of the Milwankee and Baraboo Point. Dubaque by fills range is nearer to Missaaked than to Chicago, and by the laws of distance, the trade this crabbly limiters. patronage conferred, they are of that sky, the Bietropolis of Iowa, and that portion of lowe tributary to her, belongs to Milwaukee, an with a very little effort can be secured. No person that has not visited Dubuque can from any adequate idea of Ricer Valley Rathroad, in a pecuniary point of view, would prove a highly successful enterprise. The amount of grain which needs this market from the

the importance of that cny. She is so situated as to command the trade and commerce of the entire North West portion of Tows and a large portion of somhern Minnesota, and is some forty milets nearer Miswaukos than Prairie du Chien. Dubuquo is anxious to extend her Railroad and commercial influences in favor of Milwaukee, if she can have a direct Railroad comm citation. At the last session of the Legislature of Lows, they passed a law granting a Railroad from Wisconsin, the privilege of crossing the Mississippl River by ferry or bridge opposite to Dubuque, and the citizens of Dubuque have expressed a willingness to denute depot grounds, to any company that tomy give them a direct communication with Milwaukee.

If the facilities were extended to the Milwaukee & Exembor Valley Rullroad to build this branch from Madison to Dubuque, Milwaukes would then command the lead trade of Mineral Point, and the country ad-joining, and also of Dubuque, all of which now go to Chicago or St. Louis. Let Milwaukee once secure th lead trade of this region, there would be no difficulty in securing a company to creek a white land manufactry in Milwaukee, and also the manufacture of sheet lead and lead pips, which is so much used and sold in this city. With these railroads completed, empty stores in our best business street, would only be a mat-ter of bygone days. With such outlets and facilities for getting the raw material that thic, and what we now have affords, manufacturers would be induced to come among us. Milwaukes would soon have her sugar refinery, cotton factories, white lead factories
